Dear Master Trainer,

our questionnaires give you profound feedback at the beginning about the expectations of your participants and at the end about the results of your training. To use such a feedback instrument is highly professional. It opens for your participants at the beginning the door to additional expectations and it sends the messages that your trainings have a huge impact for great professional and life benefits and that they are scientifically designed and controlled. This adds value to your training and you can use it for your marketing.

Therefore, we highly recommend that you ask your participants to fill out the enclosed questionnaires. We use the names only for scientific reasons to match the questionnaire at the beginning with the questionnaire at the end and optional for a questionnaire after a few months. The output is anonymized. The intensive evaluation is done by Doctoral Candidates from Universidad Central de Nicaragua (UCN).
